

LE ZERO

Reset To Find Another You

Amin Khatir aka Le Zero tries to translate everyday's experiences and thoughts into modern music. Using many different and unusual acoustic and electronic instruments, sometimes cheap equipment, old fxs and different studio tricks he records and mixes his vision of music with no preconception about style, influence or trend.

The result can mean everything or nothing at all... but it is usually singular and emotional pop music that might sound like nothing before.

Reset to find another you is the debut album of Le Zero, a work that lasted 3 years, with different intervals for other artists productions and travels around the globe. Influenced by these experiences, Le Zero's songs are snapshots of his feelings and thoughts.

Ranging from electronic lofi, folkloristic instruments, samples, acoustic guitar and voices, Le Zero still likes to describe himself as a singer-songwriter.

Impossible to describe his music in a single word: while using different influences such as 70's funk with 80's kinkiness, pop melodies with electronic lofi, breakbeat basses with acoustic guitars, jazzy harmonies with vocoders, the songs keep a natural flow and a pop simplicity.

Based on the theme of finding another self, the album revolves hitting all possible atmospheres and feelings in a kind of schizophrenic manner, as it is when feelings and thoughts do not coincide but collide, when love and rationality hit themselves, when predilections and intentions diverge.

Can you reset? Will you find another you?
